

Ben & Jerry's: Stand up for farmworkers' rights!

Did you know Ben & Jerry's has serious farmworkers' rights abuses in its dairy supply chain?

Vermont's dairy farmworkers work 60-80 hours per week; with 40% working seven days a week. Forty percent receive less than the VT min. wage; while almost a third had never had a raise. Not only that, but a fifth had their first wages illegally withheld, and 16% live in overcrowded housing.

Ben & Jerry's has stood up for cows (No RGBH), chickens (cage-free eggs), and fair trade – Now it's time they stand up for the farmworkers who put the cream in their ice cream!
